7. On 27 October, the SS Kaserne, Droege, 4 km south of Fuerstenberg, was occupied to capacity by troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets, including some with motor transport insignia. From 100 to 120 trucks were parked in the barracks yard. Small groups of about 20 soldiers each, who wore red-bordered black epaulets, practiced throwing hand grenades and received field training in the adjoining training field.

10. On 15 November, the SS Kaserne, Droege, quartered about 4,000 troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets. Local residents stated that they had seen 40 to 60 tanks in the wooded area west of the barracks installation at the end of October. They also said that they had seen about 20 tanks leaving the billeting area toward the training field just east of the Droege railroad station between 10 and 12 November.

Comments.

- (1) The observations made at the restricted area on Roebelin Lake, the restricted area west of the Fuerstenberg railroad station and the tank repair shop agree with previous information.
- (2) The information indicates that components of the 9th Sig Regt and supply services of the Second Gds Mecz Army were still stationed in the inner and outer portions of the former Ravensbrueck concentration camp.
- The strength estimate of 3,000 troops in paragraph 9 of the present report is substantially above previous estimates by other sources and therefore doubted.
- (3) at the beginning of September 1951 that the military hospital in the castle of Fuerstenberg moved out with all its equipment, and that the castle was returned to the Fuerstenberg municipal administration.
- (4) The information indicate that the SS Kaserne, Droege, still quartered the 34th Gds Msz Rifle Regt of the 12th Gds Tank Div and headquarters troops, probably including motor transport units, of the Second Gds Mecz Army. See [redacted] The tanks mentioned in the present report probably belong to components of the 12th Gds Tank Div which practiced there only temporarily. No tanks have been reported to be stationed in the SS Kaserne to date. The strength estimate of 4,000 troops in paragraph 10 is considered too high.

(5)A Tank Unit Davidenko in Fuerstenberg is reported for the first time.
